ers, the best they have ever known in goff. The Stickneys and McKlitricks were at their best, and played their game right to the handle. Singularly, the St. Louis stars made duplicate scores, at each, in the morning and St each in the afternion. They will either play off the te for the Harbaugh cup or toss to decide who shall become its owner. The cup was offered by S. J. Harbaugh of St. Louis to the player who makes the lowest score in the qualifying round.

Arthur Stickney played a game that was but three stokes benind that of his brother and McKittrick. He had bad luck on No. B. taking two extra patts on the green. But for this he might have tied or beaten his brother.

In getting three men in the first four qualificants St. Louis accomplished a notable feat, especially as her golfers have not hitherto been famous for the excellence of their play in championships.

Walter Egan, cousin of the more famous Chandler, nimeelf a Western champion and a runner-up in a national championship, made the next morning score, St. He took 85 for the afternoon round, however, and lost out.

One of the best upfill games played was that by Mason Pheips of Chicago. Young Phelps took 39 in the morning. It did not seem that he had a chance on earth to qualify. He came in with 79 in his afterneon card, a performance two-thirds better than his effort in the morning. Revolver Contest With Police. of Light Battery A for a special match at sixty

Mr. Sempie uni is, A. C. Vickery of Glen Echo was right behind him with 181. This gave to St. Löuis seven men in the successful thirty-two, a very fine showing, indeed, for the golfers of the World's Fair city, and a vast improvement on their previous efforts.

Some former St. Louis stars just did fail to qualify. C. W. Scudder, one of the first local golf champions, missed by two strokes, doing 185. B. S. Adams, another early champions of St. Louis, did 184, and missed qualifying by one stroke. John S. Lowry, the filmous long driver of the Normandie Park Club, did not play. Bernie Elimunds, once a champion of Glen Echo, fell down miserably and could not beat 190, 390 for thirty-six holes.

The rain Sunday night left the course very heavy for the morning rounds. The greens endured the rain better than anyone thought they would, and that the course was good in the afternoon Mr. Egand. 'S attests.

General Racing Notes.

Withdrawals from the fourth race sesterday at Delmar, on account of the brown track, caused the substitution of half the second even for the feature of the card. The better class of vountaters in the 2-verteald face were brought together in the fourth, and a fair class contest resulted, with The Republic's tip, Borak, railouing home in front.

Judge Murthy returned to Delmar vesterday his usual speed. His trainer claimed that the recent hardness of the track had made him unable to work the colding and that Jerry was unfit in consequence.

Judge Murphy, because told him that he had no business senting the horse to the bost in that case, and that any subsequent performances of the sext would result in the recommendation that his license should be withdrawn by the Western Juckey Club.

This action is to be commended, as it will do much to revene the habit of working out horses in races when they are unfit.

Benny Yanger, Nick Santora and a delegation of the California amazeur boxing contingen were visitors at the Delmar track vesterday.
